This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

HISTORY

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

In presenting a brief history of the Association, we cannot help remarking the increased facilities at present afforded for moral and intellectual development to all classes in the community, and especially to young men.

When we contrast the Schools, Lyceums and Libraries of the present day, with the scanty and imperfect means of education possessed by our predecessors, we have great reason for gratitude to those who have furnished these privileges, and a heavy responsibility rests upon us rightly to improve them.

Among the many useful institutions with which our city abounds, there is none perhaps which exerts a more powerful and favorable influence than this Association. This will at once be apparent when it is recollected that its members have opportunities for debate, declamation and composition, access to the newspapers of the day, and all the periodical literature of this country and England, and a large and well-selected Library.

The record of the events connected with its formation and progress necessarily presents few items of interest to any but its members, and is only valuable as an incentive to other institutions to imitate the perseverance and energy of its founders.

The first meeting was held at the Commercial Coffee House on the 11th of March, 1820, and was composed principally of merchants' clerks. It was voted unanimously that immediate measures should be taken to establish a Library and Reading Room for the use of young men engaged in mercantile pursuits; and Messrs. Theodore Lyman, Jr., J. G. Gibson, Samuel A. Otis, N. A. Barrett, Thomas

Gorham, James T. Blanchard, Lynde M. Walter, Charles. J. Johnson, Edward Codman, Henry A. Davis, and Samuel W. Pomeroy were appointed a committee of organization, thus forming the first association of the kind in the United States.

This committee proceeded at once to the duties assigned them, by procuring suitable rooms in Merchants Hall, Congress Street. A Constitution was subsequently adopted, of which the principal features were, that no person in business for himself, should be allowed a voice in its affairs; the age necessary for membership to be not less than fifteen years; the terms of admission an annual assessment of two dollars, and the presentation of a book upon signing the Constitution.

For the ensuing fifteen years, the Institution progressed very slowly, accomplishing, however, its object, though subject to frequent reverses, resulting partly from a want of interest among the members, but mainly from a deficiency of pecuniary means. Indeed, at times, it appeared as if the whole scheme would be entirely abandoned, and it was mainly owing to the active exertions, and untiring zeal of a few devoted friends, that its existence was maintained.

In 1835, to remedy this difficulty, an appeal was made to the merchants, and seven hundred dollars were at once subscribed towards a permanent fund. This liberal act infused new spirit into the members; numerous accessions were made to their numbers, and the elocution class was established. This last measure exerted a most favorable influence in promoting the prosperity of the Association.

On the 11th of March, 1836, the sixteenth anniversary was celebrated by an address from G. W. Tyler, Esq.

On the 20th of June following, a severe calamity was experienced in the destruction, by fire, of the cabinet of curiosities, and several valuable paintings. Many of the books were also very much injured by water.

This unexpected event, instead of producing discouragement, incited the members to renewed exertions. At a meeting called for consultation, forty-two pledged themselves to introduce one hundred and fifty new associates within three months, or pay into the treasury the amount of their assessments. Spacious and convenient rooms were at once obtained in School Street, the want of which had long been felt, and had always been no slight obstacle to the progress of the Institution.

The seventeenth Anniversary was celebrated by an address from Isaac C. Pray, Jr., and a poem by A. L. Stimson.

We cannot forbear mentioning a most interesting incident, which occurred at this time, showing the good feeling which existed among the members. One of the most active members died, leaving his family in indigent circumstances. Through the influence of Mr. Edward Stearns, a prominent member, a fund was raised amounting to five hundred dollars, entitled the Benevolent Fraternity Fund; and one hundred dollars a year for five years, were voted to the family of the deceased, and promptly paid.

In 1838, the Anniversary was one of unusual interest. The address on the occasion was delivered by his excellency, Edward Everett, and the poem by Mr. James T. Fields, to a large and brilliant audience.

The first course of lectures before the Association, was delivered this year by J. S. Buckingham, Esq., of England, on Egypt and Palestine, and consisted of sixteen lectures.

The nineteenth Anniversary was celebrated by an address from Hon. Rufus Choate, and a poem by Mr. T. R. Gould.

An extraordinary excitement at the annual election of officers immediately following, and the strenuous exertions of the respective parties to elect their candidates, added upwards of three hundred new members to the ranks, in the short space of one month.

The twentieth Anniversary was celebrated by an address from Hon. Caleb Cushing, and a poem by Mr. E. P. Whipple.

In 1841, the lease of the rooms in School Street having expired, and being ill adapted to the growing wants of the members, the elegant rooms in Amory Hall, now occupied by the Association, were obtained, and occupied for the first time on the 20th of September.

The anniversary address this year was delivered by John Neal, Esq., and the poem by Mr. Isaac F. Shepard. In April, 1842, the Boston Marine Society deposited with the Association their extensive cabinet of curiosities, containing about two thousand rare and valuable specimens, which, added to our former collection, forms an appropriate and attractive ornament to the rooms. A most excellent address was delivered on the twenty-first anniversary by Rev. George Putnam, of Roxbury, and a poem by George F. Beck.

Rather a novel method was adopted in the celebration of the anniversary, on the 11th of March following, by holding a levee at Papanti's Hall, which passed off in a very happy and brilliant manner, enlivened with dancing, appropriate sentiments, &c.

For several years the project had been repeatedly discussed of establishing a course of public lectures, but had never been adopted, from want of encouragement. This year, however, a plan of operations was submitted by Mr. E. C. Cowdin, which after mature deliberation was accepted, and the course subsequently proved triumphantly successful, both as regards the elevated character of the lectures and the numbers of the audience. The introductory was delivered by Hon. Philip Hone, of New York, and the poem by Hon. George Lunt, of Newburyport, who were followed by Hon. Levi Woodbury, Hon. William Sturgis, Elihu Burritt, John Neal, Ralph W. Emerson, and other distinguished individuals. The lectures having caused large accessions of members, an increased call for books was produced which it was impossible to satisfy. As soon as this fact became known, Hon. William Sturgis and Hon. Abbot Lawrence made application to Messrs. Amos Lawrence, William Lawrence, Nathan Appleton, John P. Cushing, David Sears, William Appleton, John Bryant and Robert G. Shaw, who, with themselves, immediately subscribed one hundred dollars each for the purchase of books. In July following, the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge, through their President, Hon. Daniel Webster, also subscribed five hundred dollars for the same object. About one half of these amounts has been expended, and the library is now undoubtedly one of the best of its size in the country.

The Association is now entirely free from debt, and has a reserved fund of fifteen hundred dollars, the interest only of which is used towards defraying the current expenses, which, although regulated by the severest economy, are necessarily quite large.

We would briefly add, in conclusion, that our most heartfelt thanks are due to those merchants who, by their timely donations, have enabled us to replenish the library and relieve ourselves from pecuniary embarrassment; to the conductors of the city press, for their liberality in supplying the rooms with their publications; but above all to those past members, who, by their hearty sympathy, and untiring labors in our behalf, sustained the institution through all its vicissitudes, until success rewarded their exertions.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

NAME.

THIS institution shall be called the MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

ARTICLE II.

DESIGN.

It shall be the aim of this Association to establish a Library, consisting of such works as are of approved authority and character, and adapted to disseminate useful and entertaining knowledge, and to improve the members in elocution and debate; also the formation of a cabinet of curiosities.

ARTICLE III.

MEMBERS.

SEC. 1. Any young man, not under fourteen years of age, engaged in mercantile pursuits, who shall pay into the treasury two dollars, and subscribe to the Constitution, shall receive a certificate of membership, signed by the Secretary, and impressed with the seal of the institution, entitling him to all the privileges of the Association.

SEC. 2. Any member intending to withdraw his connection with the Association, shall give suitable notice to one of its officers, at least one week before his assessment is due.

ARTICLE IV.

ASSESSMENT.

Every member shall be subject to an annual assessment of two dollars, payable in advance.

ARTICLE V.

GOVERNMENT.

The government of the Association shall be vested in the hands of a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and nine Directors, who, together, shall constitute a Board of Directors. They shall be elected with written ballot, by general ticket.

ARTICLE VI.

PRESIDENT.

The President, when present, shall preside at all meetings, both of the Association and Board of Directors, and in case of an equal division of the members on any question, shall give the casting vote.

ARTICLE VII.

VICE-PRESIDENT.

The Vice-President shall preside in the absence of the President, and perform all the duties of that officer.

ARTICLE VIII.

SECRETARY.

The Secretary shall prepare and sign all certificates of membership; he shall affix his name to all the advertisements and notices emanating from the Board of Directors, or from the Association, (if not otherwise ordered); he shall attend all meetings, and in the absence of the regular Chairman, shall call the same to order, and accurately and at large record the proceedings in a book kept for that purpose, which shall be deposited in the Library room, subject to the inspection of the proprietors; and shall, under the guidance of the Board of Directors, conduct correspondence.

ARTICLE IX.

TREASURER.

The Treasurer shall receive all moneys, and hold the same subject to the order of the Board of Directors; he shall pay no bill unless sanctioned by them, and signed by their chairman; he shall submit to the Board of Directors, at their monthly meeting, a notice of all fines and assessments that may be due; he shall make a report semi-annually of all his receipts and disbursements, and for the better security of these trusts, he shall assure to the Board of Directors the sum of two hundred dollars.

ARTICLE X.

DIRECTORS.

SEC. 1. The Board of Directors shall meet on the first Monday of every month, for the transaction of business. They shall have the control of the monied and general concerns of the Association; they shall appoint suitable persons to act as Librarians; they shall have power, from time to time, to make such by-laws as may be found necessary for the better regulation and government of the Association, which shall be submitted to the proprietors for their approval; they shall make an annual report to the proprietors on the state of the Association; and, as a body, are fully empowered to execute any measure designed to promote the objects of the institution, and the moral and intellectual character of its members.

SEC. 2. At all meetings of the Board of Directors, seven members must be present to proceed to business.

ARTICLE XI.

MEETINGS.

SEC. 1. At all meetings of the Association, twenty members must be present for the transaction of business; except when it is proposed to alter or amend the Constitution, when fifty members must be present.

SEC. 2. The annual meeting for the election of officers, shall be holden on the first Wednesday in October.

SEC. 3. The Secretary shall call meetings of the Association, when deemed expedient by the Directors, or whenever requested in writing by fifteen of the proprietors; and he shall cause notices to be conspicuously placed in the room, at least one week previous, expressing the hour and probable business of such meeting.

SEC. 4. As improvement in elocution and debate is one of the legitimate purposes for which we are associated, regular meetings shall be holden for that purpose on such evenings as the Directors may appoint, during the months of October, November, December, January, February, and March.

ARTICLE XII.

COMMITTEES.

SEC. 1. A committee of three shall be appointed semi-annually to audit the Treasurer's accounts.

SEC. 2. The Board of Directors, with such other members as the proprietors may appoint, shall constitute a committee for the purpose of examining the Library immediately preceding the annual meeting, and discarding its useless and decayed volumes; which volumes shall be disposed of, and the proceeds appropriated to the purchase of new works, or in such other manner as the Board may direct.

ARTICLE XIII.

BOOKS.

SEC. 1. Proprietors, upon application to the Librarians, may take one volume from the room, and retain the same two weeks; at the expiration of which time, an extension of one week shall be given, if desired, provided no other members shall have left a written request for the same; or he may remove both volumes of any work comprised in two volumes of duodecimo or smaller size, and retain the same two weeks, (except those works specified in Sec. 2), after which time there shall be no extension, nor shall the same person retake either of the same volumes, until they may have remained upon the shelves of the Library one entire evening.

SEC. 2. The Directors shall have power to limit the time of retention for new books, during the first six months after their purchase, which time shall be conspicuously marked on their covers; and they shall also have power to withhold from circulation such volumes and periodicals as may be injured thereby.

SEC. 3. If at the expiration of the time specified in Sec. 1 and 2, for the retention of any book or books, the same are not returned, the sum of ten cents shall be imposed and demanded for every week so retained, and a retention of one day over the stipulated time, shall incur the same penalty.

SEC. 4. If any member refuse to pay the amount of any fine or fines which may be assessed him, his right to remove books from the Library shall be suspended, until he complies with the requirements.

SEC. 5. No volume shall be reserved for any proprietor more than one evening, and no volume shall be returned or removed from the room during any general meeting of the proprietors.

SEC. 6. If any proprietor shall lose or deface a volume, he shall replace the same, or present an equivalent in money. If it be one of a set, he shall receive the odd volumes at a fair appraisal, or make an ample recompense.

SEC. 7. All books shall be returned one week previous to the annual examination.

ARTICLE XIV.

REMOVAL OF OFFICERS.

If the Directors, the Secretary, or the Treasurer, in their several official capacities, shall neglect the performance of their duties, or shall not administer the laws of the Association efficiently and equitably, on written complaint of fifteen members, a meeting shall be called, and a committee appointed, consisting of two proprietors and one Director, who shall report, and refer the subject to the members of the Association, and they shall censure the accused, remove from office, or fully exonerate, as the circumstances of the case may warrant.

ARTICLE XV.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

The distinction of Honorary Member shall be conferred on any person, by a vote of a majority of the proprietors present at any regular meeting.

ARTICLE XVI.

EXPULSION OF MEMBERS.

If any member shall wantonly create a disturbance at any meeting of the Association, or misrepresent its character abroad, or devise or take part in any measures designedly to injure the Association, or shall purposely deface the books, the room or its appurtenances, on written complaint of fifteen members, a meeting shall be called, and the matter referred to a committee of two Directors and one proprietor, who shall investigate the charges, and report at a future meeting; when, if the same be made apparent, he shall be reproved; or fined not exceeding ten dollars, or be deprived of his privileges of membership; always allowing the accused ample opportunity to excuse or extenuate his conduct.

ARTICLE XVII.

DELINQUINCY.

Any proprietor neglecting to pay his subscription or fines for the term of fifteen days from their assessment, shall have his right as a proprietor suspended, until the same are paid; and if any member withdraw, obviously to avoid such payments, the Association shall take cognizance of the subject in any manner they may deem proper.

ARTICLE XVIII.

CONSTITUTION.

This Constitution shall not be altered or amended, unless by the written votes of three-fourths of the members present, at a meeting called exclusively for the purpose.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.

LIBRARIAN.

It shall be the duty of the Librarian to keep strict order, to attend at the Library Room every evening on which it is opened, to keep in order all books and documents belonging to the Association, and a correct catalogue of the same and an accurate account of all books delivered to members. He shall collect all fines and assessments, and pay the same over to the Treasurer; and, at the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors, shall submit a list of all persons who have become members of the Association, and of all who withdrew from it the preceding month; and an accouut of fines collected during the same period.

ARTICLE II.

REGULATION.

The Library Room shall be opened, during the months of December and January, at 6 o'clock; November and February, at 6 1-2 o'clock; March and October, at 7 o'clock; April and September, at 7 1-2 o'clock; May, at 8 o'clock; on every evening, (excepting Sunday); and during the months of June, July and August, on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, at 8 o'clock, and close at 10.

ARTICLE III.

STRANGERS.

Members shall have the liberty of introducing a friend, not a resident of this city, to the privileges of the Library, except that of removing books, for the term of one month, whose name and place of residence shall be registered by the Librarian.

ARTICLE IV.

CONVERSATION.

No loud conversation shall be permitted in the Reading Room, which shall be constantly attended by the "Director for the week."

ARTICLE V.

A member shall not remain covered within the Room.

ARTICLE VI.

A member shall not assume the liberty of arranging the books c periodicals, or of performing any of the minor duties which devolve upon the Librarian.

ARTICLE VII.

SEC. 1. No member or officer of the Association shall enter the Room at unseasonable hours, (except on business), and remove books, pamphlets, or newspapers, or any other property belonging to the Association.

SEC. 2. No member shall take away a book belonging to the Institution, unless the same be recorded; or remove a newspaper from the files.

SEC. 3. Any member who defaces any book belonging to the Association, by marking upon it with a pencil or otherwise, shall be considered amenable to Article 16th of the Constitution.

ARTICLE VIII.

MEETINGS.

SEC. 1. If at any meeting of the Association, a member doubts the decision of a vote, he may call for a division, and the members voting on each side shall then be counted by tellers appointed by the Chairman, and the result declared by him.

SEC. 2. When a motion has been made and seconded, it shall be put in writing, if desired, and read by the Chairman before the same be open for discussion.

SEC. 3. When a motion is under discussion, no other shall be received except to adjourn, to lie on the table, to postpone indefinitely, or the call for the previous question; which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged.

SEC. 4. No member, who did not vote with the majority on any question, shall move the reconsideration of the vote.

SEC. 5. A member shall not be permitted to interrupt another, unless it be to call him to order, or correct a mistake; nor be permitted to pass unnecessarily between the presiding officer and the person speaking.

ARTICLE IX.

DEBATE.

If different opinions shall be expressed regarding questions of order, or mode of debate, upon subjects before a meeting of the Association, such opinions shall be governed by the decision of the presiding officer; and if such is objected to then, by appeal to members present; and if any individual persists in opposition to such decision, his right of membership shall be suspended.

ARTICLE X.

If at any meeting of the Association questions should arise which are not treated upon in the before-mentioned By-Laws, they shall be decided by an appeal to "Jefferson's Manual."

ARTICLE XI.

SEC. 1. Committees on Debate, Declamation and Composition shall be chosen, to consist of three each, the Chairman of each committee to be chosen from the Board of Directors.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Debate to furnish questions for discussion, and provide suitable persons to open and carry on the same.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Declamation to engage persons to declaim on evenings set apart for that purpose.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Composition to receive all pieces of composition and submit them to the members.

SEC. 5. At any meeting of the Association held for the purpose of Declamation, there shall be but one exercise on the same evening.

On the evening appropriated to debate, there shall be but one exercise; provided, however, that this By-Law shall not be so construed as to preclude the discussion of more than one subject on that evening.

At the meetings for Composition, there may be a debate on such subjects as the members shall decide.

These exercises shall take place in the following order, viz. Declamation, Debate, Composition.

ARTICLE XII.

The Board of Directors shall, from time to time, appoint one of their number, who shall be styled the "Director for the Week," and whose duty shall be to have the general supervision of the internal affairs of the Association, to receive strangers who may visit the Rooms, and to repress any disorderly conduct on the part of the members.

ARTICLE XIII.

Should a member transgress either of the 4th, 5th, 6th, or 7th Articles of these By-Laws, he shall be reported to the Board of Directors, who may take such measures thereon as they may deem proper.

ARTICLE XIV.

There shall be a meeting of the Association on the Friday evening succeeding the first Monday in every month, at such hour as the Directors may appoint, for the transaction of any business that may come before it.

ARTICLE XV.

Notice shall be given to the members by the Treasurer, of their assessments becoming due, at least one week before the expiration.

ARTICLE XVI.

It shall be the duty of the Committee on the Library to have a strict examination of the record book of the Librarians once in two months, to notify those members who have retained books over the stipulated time to keep them out, and to see that the 17th Article of the Constitution be rigidly adhered to.

ARTICLE XVII.

No member shall have the liberty to transfer his right to take out Books, or access to the Reading Room, to a person not a member of the Institution.

ARTICLE XVIII.

Members shall not take out books on another's page without a written order; and if any books so taken out are lost, the Librarian shall be held accountable therefor.

ARTICLE XIX.

These By-Laws shall not be altered or amended, unless deemed expedient by the Directors, and assented to by a majority of the members present at a meeting.
